

The objective of SOSCI is to enable users of oscilloscope a way to gain access to all the features and possibilities through a software that can be done through a hardware oscilloscope and beyond. Our vision is to create a method that would better everyday life of engineers.

Display numerical data streams in real time over the network. No need for additional hardware.

Have a detailed look into your signals by adapting sweep speeds, amplitude and offset in real time.